

The GALV-A-DOCK™ Warranty

And How It Came To Be

A warranty must be more than just a marketing tool. It must reflect the manufacturer's willingness to stand behind their product. It should be in writing, and supported by proof that the product can, at least, stand up to the term and conditions of the warranty. Prototypes are not backed by written warranty; Proven products are.

GALV-A-DOCK did not always have a warranty. It was engineered with attention to detail so that it would soon deserve one. GALV-A-DOCK was given a five-year limited warranty when the first docks had successfully given five years of complete customer satisfaction. It was given this ten-year limited warranty after twelve years of satisfaction. Not only was it found satisfactory, but it also was able to withstand the worst that Mother Nature could deal out; protecting every boat under a GALV-A-DOCK boathouse.

Manufacturers of the Galv-a-Dock system have worked hard to offer this warranty. Waterfront Specialties, Inc. will stand behind this product, that is why we have put it in writing.